BOARD OF GOVERNORS

By FOLIO Staff

The Board of Governors and its Executive Committee met December 7, 1973.

CAMPUS SECURITY FORCE

The Board accepted as information a report on the implementation of the Board Report on the Campus Security Force. Excerpts are reprinted below:

1. Traffic and Parking

Status: (a) Arrangements have been completed for the transfer of the ticketing function in designated parking lots and at meters from Campus Security to the Parking Office. The necessary administrative changes are underway, and the new procedures will start early in January, 1974. Where possible, students are being hired for this work. Campus Security personnel will continue to enforce the regulations in fire lanes, pedestrian crosswalks, bus stops, etc.; (b) Campus Security personnel are trained in traffic control and preliminary accident investigations. This responsibility involves close liaison with the Edmonton City Police. Traffic accidents involving University vehicles or damages to University property are fully investigated where damages are under $200. Such reports are useful for insurance and property repair purposes.

2. Property Protection

Status: (a) Campus Security has developed a capability to assess security problems within buildings and recommend remedial measures. This service has been widely publicized and discussions are underway with various departments. The program is designed to encompass all campus structures; (b) regular Security Force personnel check exterior doors to ensure that closure hours are being observed in the course of their regular patrols. Student watchmen, reporting to the Department of Physical Plant, are responsible for internal building security. Their principal function is to ensure that there is no malfunction in the mechanical systems.

3. Investigations

Status: At the present time, the Campus Security Force has two staff members who are trained and experienced in investigative techniques. It appears that the competence of these people is recognized by allied police agencies. Two other Force personnel are being developed and trained in investigative techniques under supervision.

4. Special Services

Status: The Force operates actively in each of the areas referred to: (a) special duties from time to time assigned to it; (b) provision of emergency first aid and ambulance service; (c) the operation of a lost and found; (d) providing an information centre for off-campus visitors; and (e) staffing short courses in first aid and related areas when requested, and as resources permit. An example of undertaking special duties was its major contribution to the success of United Way Expo '73, including a highly polished first aid demonstration. Personnel are trained in first aid beyond St. John's Ambulance standards, and an emergency vehicle is operated which is equipped with resuscitative devices, respirators, etc. Courses in first aid are provided to various University departments, and staff members go out into the surrounding community on their own time showing films on traffic safety to kindergartens.

The Campus Security Force operates 24 hours per day, and staff members are thoroughly familiar with building locations, the location of departments, University functions, etc. Staff members are informed daily by bulletin of any new changes in the campus area.

PEMBINA HALL

The Board accepted the recommendations of the Board Building Committee, in accordance with the Fire Marshall's report:

- (a) THAT Pembina Hall be closed as a residence as of April 30, 1974;
- (b) THAT in the meantime the tenants be advised of the Fire Marshall's recommendation;
- (c) THAT portable smoke detectors be installed in the building;
- (d) THAT minimal fire protection necessary to safeguard the tenants throughout the winter is effected; and
- (e) THAT a report on alternative uses for the building be prepared for review early in 1974.

MEDICAL RESEARCH COUNCIL GROUP

Board members gave their support to a proposal by the Department of Biochemistry for the development of a Medical Research Council Group to Investigate Protein Structure and Formation. The proposal has the support of the Department of Biochemistry, the Faculty of Medicine, the Academic Development Committee, the General Faculties Council Research Committee, General Faculties Council, and the University Planning Committee. In addition, the proposal has met

SUBSTANTIAL ENROLMENT INCREASE

The number of full-time students enrolled in the 1973-74 Winter Session is 18,412. This is an increase of 700 over last year's figures. This year's enrolments also top the high reached in the 1970-71 academic year, when there were approximately 18,300 full-time students enrolled in Winter Session.

Announcement of the registration figures was made December 7 by University President MAX WYMAN.

the procedural requirements for establishing new programs as set down by the Board on October 6, 1972.

The establishment of the Group does not involve any financial commitment by the University, either now or in the future. The Group will not require additional space or significant renovations of existing space. Its establishment would not constitute the introduction of a new teaching or training program.

Medical Research Council policy provides for continuing support of such groups, subject to reviews of performance every five years.

DOWNTOWN CREDIT COURSES TO BE OFFERED

S. C. T. CLARKE, Director of Spring and Summer Sessions and Off-Campus Credit Courses, has announced that starting in September, 1974 two half courses may be offered at a downtown location during the noon hour: one in sociology, the other in business administration and commerce.

The Department of Sociology proposed this innovation and after careful investigation the committee which oversees off-campus degree credit courses decided to proceed with a limited experiment. An evaluation team will assess its success in terms of enrolment, satisfaction to students and instructors, department and faculty views, and costs. The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce is co-operating in making a survey of member businesses to ascertain their views.

The noon hour was selected because it was felt that a number of students might attend who for one reason or another cannot attend the 250 late afternoon and evening courses offered on campus. The half courses, for which credit towards a degree will be allowed, may be given between September, 1974 and April, 1975. The exact location has not yet been determined, but a site within easy walking distance of Jasper Avenue and 101 Street is favored.

The University of Winnipeg has offered noon courses downtown for several years and reports that they are successful even though the demand is limited. A similar modest success is anticipated here.

Further details about time, location, course description, admission, fees, etc. will be provided in the Evening Credit Program Calendar expected to be available from the Registrar's Office in March, 1974.

RESEARCH COUNCILS REPORT ON AID TO SCHOLARLY PUBLISHING

The Social Science Research Council of Canada has issued a report on its program of aid to scholarly manuscripts. The program is designed to assist the publication of book-length works which make a significant contribution to knowledge. Each apparently eligible manuscript is assessed for a 13-member Publications Committee by at least two independent expert assessors, in Canada or abroad, before a decision is reached. A similar program is administered by the Humanities Research Council using the same administrative staff.

The total budget for the year 1973-74 is $625,000. Of this, $500,000 is for publication grants; $75,000 for administration costs; and $50,000 for readers' fees. This budget is split between the two councils.

During the financial year May 1, 1972 to April 30, 1973, 118 apparently eligible manuscripts were received. During the same period 46 manuscripts were approved for grants. During the financial year 1968-69, six manuscripts were approved, whereas in the first six months of the financial year of 1973-74 over 40 manuscripts have been approved by the committee. The program administered by the Humanities Research Council has similarly expanded, and the grants awarded by the Canada Council have reflected this growth. So far it has not been necessary to reject applications for want of funds.

Of the 118 manuscripts received during 1972-73, 85 are written in English and 33 are in French. These statistics correspond roughly with those for the total book production in Canada: approximately two-thirds are English-language titles, and one-third are French-language titles. The proportion of French-language manuscripts approved by the Humanities Research Council is in the region of 40 percent of the total.

During the year 23 manuscripts were received in the fields of sociology and anthropology; 22 in political science; 19 in history; 15 in law; 13 in geography; 11 in economics; 4 in psychology; 4 in educational science; 4 in library science; and 3 in business studies. Seventy manuscripts were submitted by publishers or by authors who had publishing arrangements and 48 manuscripts were submitted by authors who had no definite publishing agreement. Of the manuscripts submitted by publishers, a sizeable proportion had not, at the time of submission, been definitely accepted for publication.

The average evaluation period during the year was slightly under four months. Although this is a significant improvement over some previous years, no substantial reduction in the average evaluation period is foreseen for the future.

Approximately $115,000 was paid to 43 manuscripts during the year. Of these, 31 manuscripts were published by university presses, and 10 by non-university presses. All the books were published in Canada.

The success rate of apparently eligible manuscripts has varied between 30 percent and 65 percent in the past five years (including those manuscripts that are revised and then resubmitted to the Council). For the year 1972-73 the success rate was marginally higher than 50 percent. A substantial portion of the accepted manuscripts had been revised on the basis of readers' comments.

Prior to May, 1972 a block grant of $2,500 was awarded to each manuscript recommended. Now grants are variable and are related to the anticipated deficit on the cost of the production of a book. The average grant for 1972-73 was $3,000.

BOOKS

The Proceedings of the first Canadian hydraulics conference, held here last May, have been published by the Water Resources Centre and the Department of Extension. Edited by ROLF KELLERHALS, Associate Professor of Civil Engineering, the Proceedings consist of technical papers covering: river engineering (9 papers); hydraulic aspects of pollution (7 papers); numerical methods in hydraulic engineering (9 papers); and hydraulic structures (13 papers). The book has 670 pages of text and figures, is priced at $12, and is available from the Department of Extension.

JOSEPH KIRMAN, Associate Professor of Elementary Education, chaired a session and presented a video-tape scripted by himself and produced by the Audiovisual Media Centre under the direction of DAVID MAPPIN and LARRY LE CLAIR.

■ M. NORMAN, Associate Professor of English, gave a talk on censorship to the Edmonton branch of the Soroptimists.

■ SHIRLEY STINSON, Professor and Coordinator of graduate programs in Nursing, is attending the National Economic Outlook Conference in Montreal as a member of the Health Industry Committee for the Economic Council of Canada.

■ C. ROGERS, Lecturer in the School of Nursing, has an article in the November issue of The Journal of Nursing Education.

■ CHRISTOPHER GORDON-CRAIG, Assistant Professor of English, gave a talk and conducted a session on public speaking at the Edmonton Public Interscholar Council Students' Union Workshop held recently at Camp He-Ho-Ha.

■ "Toward a theory of perception" by BRUCE BAIN, Assistant Professor of Educational Psychology, appears in the Journal of General Psychology, 1973, 89, 1-296. This monograph would be of interest to psychologists, estheticians, and educators.

■ D. GRANT FISHER, Professor and Chairman of Chemical Engineering, presented a paper at the American Institute of Chemical Engineers' Meeting in Philadelphia. The paper was co-authored by Associate Professor D. E. SEBORG and graduate student R. G. WILSON.

■ C. A. S. HYNAM, Associate Professor of Sociology, gave a lecture to graduate students who had chosen community development and community organization in the Department of Social Administration at the University College of Swansea, South Wales. The next day he accompanied one of the students to his field placement at Aberfan, the Welsh village which suffered a terrible disaster in 1966 when a man-made mountain of slag collapsed one morning overwhelming the village school and killing all but a handful of pupils and teachers. Here he was shown the sixteen oil paintings presented to the school authorities by the Province of Alberta after the disaster, and also attended a meeting of TY Toronto, a community action organization initiated by funds collected by the Welsh churches in Toronto.

■ ELIZABETH FILIPKOWSKI, Associate Professor of Elementary Education, served as clinician at the British Columbia Music Education Association's Fall Conference.

NOTICES

VANDALISM IN ELEVATORS

The following notice has been received from R. E. PHILLIPS, Director of Physical Plant.

It has become apparent that someone is tampering with elevator mechanisms. Door rollers are being removed and elevator doors are being wedged so that they jam. Passengers have been trapped in some instances. This has happened as many as seven times in one day. The person doing this requires a modest knowledge of how the doors work and some basic tools.

Setting things right is becoming costly. Also staff and students are experiencing considerable inconvenience and annoyance.

The purpose of this notice is to make everyone aware of the situation and to request that any persons who might be suspected of vandalism should be reported at once.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING

The following notice has been received from D. FENNA, chairman of the Campus Development Committee's sub-committee on traffic and parking.

As part of its current review of the Long Range Development Plan for the campus, the Campus Development Committee is reviewing present policies regarding traffic and parking. This topic is taken as including bicycles, pedestrians, and the envisaged rapid transit as well as familiar motor vehicles. It affects the provision of visitor, staff, and student parking; the circulation of traffic; the siting of drop-off zones and bus shelters; and the interconnection of buildings with enclosed passages.

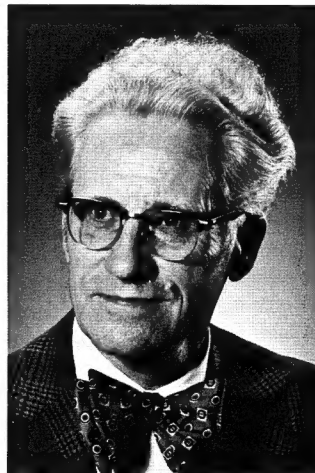

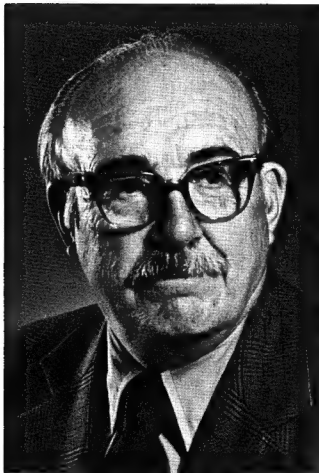

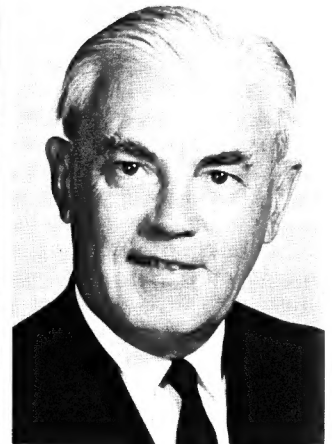

Anyone with advice, suggestions, or requests should communicate them by a note to D. FENNA, Professor of Medicine, 10-102 Clinical Sciences Building.

PARKING OFFICE TO MOVE

The Parking Office will be moving December 27 from its present quarters in the Printing Services Building to Art Workshop 1, south side, mezzanine floor. (Art Workshop 1 is located between the Students' Union Building and Stadium Car Park.) The telephone number remains unchanged at 432-3811.

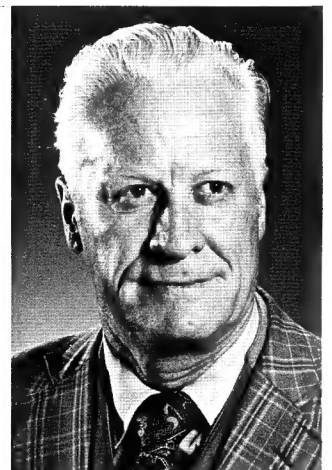

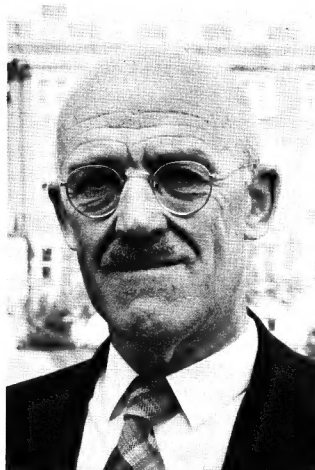

Professors Emeriti

According to the policy approved by the University's Board of Governors this fall, the Professor Emeritus distinction may be awarded automatically upon retirement to all full-time faculty members who have attained the rank of Professor, provided that they have given at least ten years of full-time service to the University and that they begin to receive their University pension immediately upon termination of their appointments at the University. For persons who do not fit into this category, recommendations for awarding the title of Professor Emeritus are made by deans and directors to the Deans' Council, which decides the cases on their individual merits.

Also appointed Professor Emeritus was W. W. PRESTON, Associate Professor of Civil Engineering, whose photograph was unavailable.
